To Our Friends and Customers.

We regret to announce to our friends and customers that on the morning of Feb. 4th, 1900, our stock of clothing, hats and furnishings was almost entirely destroyed by fire and water, and our building badly damaged, which will unavoidably cause a suspension of our business for a short time.

Contracts have been made and the workmen are rebuilding our store, which will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible, and we hope to be able to reopen on or about April 1st, at our old stand, with an entire new and beautiful stock of clothing and Gents' Furnishings.

All the stock saved from the fire has been sold to Mr. Jacob Goldstein of Danville, Va., and Mr. J. Rosenberger of Raleigh, N. C. We feel grateful to all our friends and customers for their very liberal patronage in the past, and hope by fair dealing and a strict attention to business to merit a continuance of same.

We would thank all parties indebted to us to call and settle the same, as we are anxious to balance our books. Also request all parties having accounts against us to present same. Our office is at present No. 106 South Davis street, two doors north of C. P. Vanstory's Livery Stables, in the McAdoo House building.

Very Respectfully,

C. M. VANSTORY & CO.

CRAZY SOLDIERS RETURNING

A Coach Full of Them Pass Greensboro Today

ONE ASKS FOR CHEW OF TOBACCO

Another Was Looking in Great Glee

at a Bullet--Another's Face

Was a Vacant Smile.

In a coach, upon the sides of which was printed the word "Sanitation," attached to train No. 36, passing Greensboro today at 12:23, were a number of United States soldiers who were plainly suffering from mental aberration. None of them seemed to have a violent form of insanity, but insanity was unmistakably visible in a number of faces. There were probably twenty-five or thirty men in the car, most of whom were going through some silly form of gyrations and talking, laughing or staring vacantly about them.

The Telegram man was attracted by a jolly looking fellow who raised a window and asked for a chew of tobacco. The tobacco was given him and he remarked with a strange glare: "This is more than I asked you for, but I reckon you don't care."

Sitting beside the next window was a young man who seemed to be enjoying himself greatly by holding a bullet between his thumb and forefinger, turning it about, gazing at it and blowing upon it. By the third window was an older looking man with a short beard staring blankly into space. All the others gave similar evidences of being deranged.

The reporter was instantly reminded of the statement recently made in the papers that a number of soldiers were being brought back to this country in a demented condition from the Philippines, and just had time, as the train pulled out, to ask the attendant who stood on the platform, who those men were, where they were going and what was the matter with them. He replied:

"They are United States soldiers who are crazy and are being carried to an asylum or hospital in Washington."

As above stated it has previously been published that soldiers were being sent home crazy from foreign shores. This statement was emphatically denied in an article in the New York Journal of a late date. While we did not have an opportunity of learning from whence these soldiers came, it is thought they were in a car from some Pacific coast railroad, and if that be true they are evidently from the Philippines. It is a fact beyond dispute that they are United States soldiers, some of them still wearing the uniform, and it is also apparent that they are crazy. It would look as if the loaded idea of the Philippines are not extraordinarily healthy for the American soldier. It is claimed that several hundred of them have been brought home in a deranged condition.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BYNUM.

The Remains Now Sleep Beneath Green Hill's Sod.

The funeral services over the remains of Mrs. John Gray Bynum, whose death was published in these columns Saturday, were held at three o'clock this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. E. W. Smith, assisted by Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford. These services were attended by a large concourse of sympathetic friends of the family. Dr. Smith made a most beautiful talk in connection with the life and death of the good woman whose departure was mourned by the congregation.

The floral offerings were sweet and beautiful, emblematic of the purity of the life of the deceased.

The pall bearers were Messrs C. G. Wright, J. W. Fry, M. R. Farrar, Neill Ellington, Tyre Glen, A. M. Scales, W. P. Bynum, Jr., S. H. Boyd and J. T. Morehead.

After the solemn and impressive services in the church the remains of Mrs. Bynum were tenderly laid away in Green Hill cemetery. The great heart of the entire community grieved in sincere sympathy to the stricken family and would commend them to Him who doth all things well.

KILLED IN DANVILLE.

Mr. Hunter Trotter, of Reidsville, Goes to Death Over a Precipice.

Mr. J. S. Ingram was in Reidsville yesterday, and reports the funeral there, yesterday, of Hunter Trotter, a young man of that place, who lost his life in Danville Friday night. Mr. Trotter was driving a young horse some distance from the town. It is supposed that the horse stopped, and thinking him in the road, Mr. Trotter struck him with the whip; the horse sprang forward and went over a precipice. The unfortunate young man was killed instantly. His neck was broken. The horse, which was unhurt, went back to town, which gave the alarm, a searching party started out, and in a short while found the body of Mr. Trotter. The deceased was a young man held in high esteem by the people of his town. He was the son of Mr. J. J. Trotter.

No Getting-Around Being Vaccinated at High Point--Local and Personal.

Correspondence of the Telegram

High Point, Feb. 19.--Miss Carolyn Whitten, of Henderson, is in the city on her way to Asheville where she enters school.

Scott Brittain, a cobbler, and another white boy by the name of Wood were up before the mayor Saturday for refusing to be vaccinated. Refusing to pay the fine or be vaccinated, after the trial, they were sent to the road in charge of Deputy Parrish. Arriving there they were astonished to know that as soon as they were turned over to the supervisor that they would be vaccinated. So they had word sent to the mayor that if he would let them return they would be vaccinated at home. Parrish arrived with the parties about dark and took them to the mayor's office where they were "stuck." The prisoners had to pay all cost.

There were no services at the Methodist church last night owing to the blizzard weather.

Master Paul Huffman and little Flora Smith spent Saturday and Sunday near Greensboro with relatives.

M. A. Smith who was found in bed at his home Saturday in a semi-conscious state, is reported dangerously ill.

"Resolved that North Carolina shall have compulsory education," was the query asked before the members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. in their hall Friday night. The affirmative side came out victorious.

"Side Tracked" a popular comedy composed of twenty-five people will be presented in the opera house here Saturday night. Judging from the lithographs we can expect something good and especially funny.

Prof. Jno. W. Wilborn will preach at the Methodist Protestant church Wednesday. His subject will be liquor selling.

Messrs. J. L. Schreest, Jno. W. Johnson and Rev. W. H. Roach, representatives from Guilford Council No. 23, J. O. A. M. to the State Council, will leave for Durham tomorrow.

Prayer meetings are being held preparatory to the coming of Rev. R. G. Pearson on March 4th.

Mr. Ted Armstrong returned Saturday night from Laurel, Maryland, bringing with him his fine bird dog "Avalanche."

No new cases of smallpox since last report. There are 23 cases in the hospital and three on the outside under quarantine.

John Thompson, recently of the Observer job printing office, is here.

Rev. Dr. Smith on "Creed of Christ"

Dr. Egbert W. Smith began a series of sermons at the First Presbyterian church last night on the subject of the "Creed of Jesus." His text was the familiar one, "Looking to Jesus, the Author and Finisher of our faith." The first part of the sermon was addressed to the faith of Jesus, calling special attention to its confidence, its boldness and its completeness, and recommending it as the pattern for the faith of all believers. The second part of the sermon was the more striking and was devoted to the rudiments of Jesus' creed, and the preacher proceeded to the exposition of the two fundamental articles of the creed of Jesus, namely, the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man. These two were forcibly expounded and seemed so basic and all embracing as to suggest to the listener the question how any other articles of faith could be found as subjects for future sermons in this issue, which would not be corollaries to these two principles in the faith of Christ--Fatherhood and Brotherhood.

Washington's Portrait.

By the generous liberality of patriotic ladies and citizens, the Vice-President of the Mount Vernon Association, Mrs. L. Morehead Walker, will on the 22nd of February place a copy of Stuart's Washington's portrait in fifty of the principal schools of the state. This handsome engraving is 20x28 inches. Grateful mention should be made of the unexpected, yet very liberal donation of oak moulding for frames by R. F. Dalton, Esq., of the Snow Lumber Co., High Point, N. C., and also of a valuable donation of lumber for boxing from the lumber company of which Mr. C. G. Wright is president. The Odell Hardware Company, of Greensboro, kindly furnished the glass at first cost. The Express Company, with patriotic generosity, gave free transportation for the pictures.

The above gifts illustrate the truthfulness of the description of the "Tar Heels" as given by our great Gaston, "true lightwood at heart when the match is applied to them."

Klondike, Cuba and the Maine.

Col. C. H. French, a teacher and lecturer of wide reputation, will deliver two lectures on the foregoing subjects in the Graded School Hall on Monday, February 20th, at 4 and 8 o'clock p. m. These lectures will be illustrated by nearly 400 splendid reproduction views. The proceeds will be for the benefit of the school libraries. The school children will sell tickets this week at 10 and 25 cents.

Smallpox at Winston.

Winston, Feb. 19.--There are five cases of smallpox at the county home. The keeper, his wife and child have the disease. A white man and a negro also have it. There are about 35 people at the home. They are under quarantine and will be vaccinated this afternoon.

SAME OLD ALIGNMENT AGAIN.

VOTE ON McLAURIN AMENDMENT BROUGHT IT OUT.

Holland Out on Bond--After the Convention--Spencer B. Adams at the Capitol.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, D. C., February 19.--The vote on Senator McLauren's amendment in the senate to the currency bill, when the latter was under consideration in the senate last Thursday, showed a political alignment in the senate which was very important, but which has been commented on very little, if at all. For the first time since the campaign of 1896 this amendment of Senator McLauren, which provided for the repeal of tax of ten per cent on the circulation of state banks, and state bank associations brought back the old political alignment that existed before the silver question came into prominence. The silver republicans, Senators Teller, of Colorado, and Stewart, and Jones of Nevada, voted with the republicans in opposition to the McLauren amendment, while Senator Lindsay, of Kentucky, the representative of the gold democracy voted with the Democrats in favor of the amendment. The only democrat who voted against the repeal of the tax on the circulation of state banks was Senator Caffery, of Louisiana, who is a radical gold man. It is believed, however, that Senator Caffery would have supported the McLauren amendment had there been any chance whatever of its passage through the senate by its vote.

The advance remonstrance stated the other day that it is judgment the vote was a very important one, and he was surprised that it had not been commented upon by the Washington newspaper men. He stated that in the opinion of many southern and western people that the repeal of the tax on the circulation of state banks was most important to those sections, and that if a plan in favor of such a proposition could be incorporated into the national democratic platform that it would stiffen party lines which would be beneficial to the democratic party. After all, he said that what is wanted is more money in circulation, and this is what the McLauren amendment was designed to accomplish. The Senator says that in his judgment there will be a strong effort made to pledge the democratic party at the next convention to the repeal of this tax on state banks.

Jay G. Holland, who was arrested in this city on a warrant charging him with the criminal libel of Senator Teller, of Florida, has been released in the sum of $1,000 bail. No one who knows the Florida Senator takes any stock in Holland's sensational stories. It is said that Major Teller may also substitute a charge of criminal libel against Holland. If so, he will have to stand trial in two cases instead of one. At the war department Major Ruthers is highly regarded, and enjoys the confidence of the Secretary, and other officials.

Captain Arthur Dunn, of Pensacola, Florida, who recently went to New York city to deliver the New York Herald dispatch boat Sommers N. Smith, to her new owners, is expected in Washington this week. Captain Dunn commanded the dispatch boat during the Spanish-American war.

Spencer B. Adams, the well known attorney of Greensboro, N. C., was in Washington Sunday. He will be here for several days, and is registered at the Metropolitan Hotel.

The advance remonstrance of the democratic national committee, and those who are working for the different cities which desire to entertain the next national convention are arriving in Washington. The big Milwaukee delegation is expected to arrive this morning.

The snow storm which began falling in Washington Friday morning shortly before seven o'clock did not cease until about ten o'clock Saturday night.

"After doctors failed to cure me of pneumonia I used One Minute Cough Cure and three bottles of it cured me. It is also the best remedy on earth for whooping cough. It cured my grandchildren of the worst cases," writes Jno. Berry, Logansport, Pa. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. Children all ways like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

We spent an hour out at the Normal and Industrial College and were glad to find that the school is rapidly recovering from the effects of having to be closed temporarily because of the fever epidemic and that most of the students have returned.

Another place in which we spent an hour most interestingly was in the store of Calceugh Bros., whom we have had the pleasure of knowing for some years. The spirit of improvement and expansion had also taken possession of them, and they had recently doubled both the size of their building and stock. Theirs is an exclusive china store and the immense stock looks as if the whole of North Carolina could be supplied there.

STILL HARASSING BOERS.

Immediate Move to Be Made Against Bloemfontein

CAPTURING WAGONS AND OXEN.

Boers Make Brief Stands, Use Their Small Guns and Then Hurry on in Their Retreat.

Modder River, Feb. 19.--General Kelly-Kenny's division of infantry, with a regiment of mounted rifles, is still hanging on the rear of the retreating Boers. The Boers take advantage of every ravine, kopje or other natural means of defense to make a brief stand and use their light guns, of which they have very few, and then hurry on. At each of these stands they abandon huge piles of stores and ammunition. Up till this afternoon the British had captured over 150 wagons and 1500 head of oxen. It is likely that Cronje is far ahead of his rear-guard and now in the vicinity of Bloemfontein, where he is expected to make his last desperate resistance. There will be no let-up to the British forward movement. The attack upon Bloemfontein will be begun as soon as the big guns can be brought up.

GREAT SNOW IN NEW YORK.

The Traffic Interfered With--The Poor Suffering.

New York, Feb. 17.--With all the fury of a blizzard the first real snow storm of the winter descended upon New York today. For many hours it came down so heavily that buildings a block away were only dark blurs. A wind out of the northeast, blowing 25 to 30 miles an hour, whirled the snow about in thick, blinding clouds. About 10 inches had fallen by midnight and it was still snowing fiercely. Great was the menace to shipping because of the blinding storm and inshore wind. The last ship to arrive in this port today was the Campana, which passed quarantine at 9:30 a. m. The American liner St. Louis was due this morning, but she was not reported up to midnight. La Touraine is due tomorrow, but it is not expected that she will reach port on time. The last ship to be the Euribia, which left her pier at 8 a. m. The Graf Waldersee, which attempted to pass out, went aground near Rome Shoals.

Harbor shipping was almost at a standstill. Fog bells were ringing and ferry boats were creeping about, running on slow schedules. On land, trains were halted by the snow, and in many instances stalled by the storm, the high wind causing the snow to drift.

As a result of the storm the poor of the city suffered greatly and the department of charities had to extend its utmost energies to relieve the suffering. A great many accidents were reported by the police, and ambulances from the various hospitals were continually on the go throughout the day. As yet but one death from cold and exposure was reported. As many as 40 people suffered from fractured limbs from falls. Throughout the suburbs of New York in Long Island and about New Jersey, everything pointed to a partial blockade by the snow.

IMPRESSIONS IN GREENSBORO

What an Editor Saw While on a Visit to the City.

Greensboro Reflector.

Greensboro is certainly an enterprising city, and it makes progress more rapidly than any other place in North Carolina. We spent Wednesday there and it was a surprise to note the changes that have taken place in the last five years. Upon getting off the train there one is impressed with the splendid depot building that has taken the place of the former little wood shanty that was used as a depot. And the same spirit seems to have taken the people generally, new buildings going up in every quarter.

Public improvements are not at all behind the private enterprise shown there. Bonds to the amount of $300,000 have been voted for the purpose of improving the streets, water works and sewerage.

With such a spirit that invades Greensboro, it is no wonder that so many factories and good schools are there, and that the city has already reached a population of 20,000.

It was a pleasure while there to see Dr. J. K. Wheeler, now a dentist in Greensboro. While a youth he lived some months in Greensville and has a number of friends here.

We spent an hour out at the Normal and Industrial College and were glad to find that the school is rapidly recovering from the effects of having to be closed temporarily because of the fever epidemic and that most of the students have returned.

Another place in which we spent an hour most interestingly was in the store of Calceugh Bros., whom we have had the pleasure of knowing for some years. The spirit of improvement and expansion had also taken possession of them, and they had recently doubled both the size of their building and stock. Theirs is an exclusive china store and the immense stock looks as if the whole of North Carolina could be supplied there.

STEAD'S BLOODY PREDICTION

BRITISH WILL FILL TRENCHES WITH DEAD WOMEN

Kruger to Make England Pay a Price to Stagger Humanity--What Will the End Be?

London, Feb. 19.--William T. Stead, the noted English journalist, in the Review of Reviews, intimates that Kruger has a plan to make England pay a price that will stagger humanity, as her victory over the Transvaal is to fill the trenches with women. He believes such a storm of indignation and protest would sweep around the world as would cause the powers to join in a protest that would check England and result in honorable peace.

BULLER TO TRY FOR LADYSMITH.

London, Feb. 19.--Buller announces in an undated dispatch that the enemy after slight resistance, abandoned a strong position, and was driven across the Tugela. A second brigade under Hildyard captured several camps with wagon loads of ammunition. Southend of Monte Cristo has been taken. Buller's intention is to try to clear another crossing of the Tugela and try the direct road to Ladysmith again.

Telegraphic Briefs.

The New York cotton market closed quiet, with no change in quotations.

The House took up the bill regarding Porto Rico. An unsuccessful effort was made to limit the debate. Payne of New York this afternoon is explaining the bill.

The five-story stable of Gibbons and Prickett, agents at Cleveland for the Armour company was burned this morning. Forty horses perished.

Gales on the Spanish coast are causing a number of disasters. Three small vessels are wrecked and twenty-four seamen drowned. Two are reported foundered off Gozo.

The steamship Taormina, from Santos, with one man dead and another sick of yellow fever arrived in New York this morning.

A Camp Sterkstroem, special yesterday, says that the Boers were retiring and General Brabant's forces were entering Dordrecht.

SATURDAY NIGHT STORM.

Four Fishermen Frozen in Their Boat Near Norfolk.

Norfolk, Feb. 19.--Related steamships arriving today report Saturday night's storm very severe at sea. Sides of all vessels are covered with ice. Six fatalities have resulted from the cold wave this season. Luther Ashe was found frozen to death in a ditch near Portsmouth.

FOUR MEN FROZEN.

Four negro men caught in their boat in a blinding snowstorm were fairly frozen to death. Katherine Smith succumbed to the intense cold.

ANNOUNCEMENT.
At the meeting of the stockholders of the Greensboro Publishing Company, last Saturday, when the organization of the company was completed, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the stockholders of the Greensboro Publishing Company that the Greensboro Evening Telegram shall be democratic in politics, but with a self-respecting independence and not blindly partisan; that it shall not be the mouthpiece of any individual, or set, or circle, nor the organ of any class or sect or institution, but the honest expression of the best sentiment and the broadest intelligence of the community; that it shall avoid all entangling alliances and every influence from whatever source that may tend to narrow its range of view or embarrass the exercise of an absolute independence; that in the discussion of public questions it shall sound no uncertain note and be found on the side of right, be the question political, social or moral; that it shall have as its constant and primary aim the best development of the educational, social and industrial interests of Greensboro and Guilford county.

The management deems this announcement sufficient explanation of the existence and purposes of the paper and hence has little to say. A paper run on such a basis is the only kind that is really worth much to a community, but one thus run is of incalculable benefit. If the time ever should come when it is impossible to run the Telegram on this basis, the shop will be shut up.

Every individual, whatever his views, shall have a fair show in the Telegram, and courteous treatment at its hands.

The company has already gone to a great deal of additional expense to put the paper on the proper footing, and improvements are now projected which will not only necessitate much increase in the running expenses, but also an outlay of capital in getting ready for work. A paper such as we design to make of the Telegram cannot be sold at $3.00 a year, hence the subscription price has been fixed at $4.00 yearly. At this rate the directors expect to meet only the actual expenses of the paper—at any less, money would be lost.

The Telegram asks patronage on its merits only. It expects to be such a paper as any and every citizen of Greensboro may well take pride in, but it asks their dollars in return for their value, and it expects those who take it to pay for it.

POLITICS AND RELIGION.
The Raleigh News & Observer has been fishing in the ocean of Nathaniel Macon's wisdom and quotes the "last of the Romans" as follows: "I have always been of the opinion that a mixture of politics and religion was the very essence of hypocrisy."

With all due respect to the wisdom of the grand old North Carolina statesman, we must dissent from his view on this point, or at least from its applicability to the present time. This view would perhaps have held good in the light of Macon's time, when the chief functions of ministers were to wear stiff neckcloths and officiate at the three principal events in the earthly pilgrimage of man; and when the purposes of religion, as practiced by the class to which this rugged old hero belonged, were largely accomplished when a gentleman had attended church on Sunday. But it will not do now. The times have changed, and they are not out of joint altogether. There is a good deal of politics in religion, and some religion in politics, we are glad to think.

The only conclusion which can be derived from Macon's statement is that there has never been, or could be, a politician who had religion. Religion is only a course of action inspired by a particular belief. Belief alone is not religion. Indeed, as was pointed out in a certain sermon in Greensboro yesterday, our words "believe" and "live" come from the same root, and hence a man who believes a thing lives it. This is the only true way in which a man may be said to believe.

Now, to say that a man cannot live right and be a politician is an absurdity. It is to deny the sufficiency of the gospel. Christianity forbids nothing not wrong per se; and there is no code of ethics known to us by which it can be made out that politics, in the better sense in which Macon used the word, cannot be followed by a man who believes—and lives—the gospel. True the majority of politicians are bad, but they are so through choice, and not necessity. Now, wherein the present differs from Macon's time is this: Religion then meant seclusion; it was the relief of the old idea of penance; to be religious a man must put himself out of joint with the universe. Now, the only religion that is worth much to the world is the kind that takes off its coat and does something. It is the kind the world needs. It must carry rectitude of life into politics, business and social relations. Politics in its better sense is as necessary as rail-roading, and to deny the possibility of religion to a man who is following a necessary calling is not in accordance with the idea of the all-sufficiency of the gospel.

An Associated Press dispatch says that in Berlin the South African war news is eagerly read and commented upon, and the morning papers yesterday affected to believe that the relief of Kimberley is only a ruse to lead the British into a trap like that of Spion Kop. Berlin opinion is hard to influence.

GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.
AN ENTHUSIASTIC ARTICLE ON ITS HISTORY AND METHODS.

The Second Female College Chartered South of the Potomac.
Its President.

J. A. B. Fry, in Raleigh Post.
It is a patent fact that many of those men and institutions which say little about themselves and their work are often doing the very highest grade of service and laying foundations in character that are as immovable as Gibraltar.

At a time when so much sacrificial work is being done by schools that are greater in catalogue than in character, it is stimulating to spend a few hours (if you have a more time) on the campus and in the classic halls of old Greensboro Female College. You can almost feel the shades of Grecian and Latin immortals in art and literature as you walk among the groves of the campus. Though Cicero had some doubts about immortality, yet you can almost hear the music of his sentences and the rhythm of his diction as you stroll along the halls and walk through the recitation rooms where these masters have been read and taught for years. Above all the atmosphere is fragrant with the memory of godly women who have conserved its history and vocal with the voices of young ladies who now make prophecies of great things still to be wrought. My younger brethren need not fear, hats may still be pinnaled and rubbers labelled No. 12.

Many years before the civil war this institution was doing a great work for the girls of our state. In 1838 the charter was secured, the first in North Carolina. Mr. Charles Lee Smith says in his history of Education in North Carolina that with the exception of Wesleyan Female College at Macon, Ga., this was the first female college chartered south of the Potomac. The church and state may well be proud of her record. Among the alumnae are names of noted women; but her greatest work has been to educate a type of Christian womanhood, women who put character beforeinsel and show; this type being God's greatest bulwark against ecclesiastical and national decay.

A more specific look into the work now being done by the college would be of interest if we had space. We must call attention to the grade of scholarship. The president keeps in touch with the female schools of highest standing in New England. Also he recently visited Europe to better equip himself for this work. Year by year the grades have been raised. The young lady who now receives the diploma of G. F. C. may compliment herself that she possesses that which stands for hard work, close research and training under teachers who are among the best of the Old North State can afford.

The pride of the institution is its library. Those who have not seen it in some time would be greatly surprised at what has been done. The collection of materials for North Carolina history alone must have cost much money, time and patient research. It shows state pride very commendable and offers data for the future historian not heretofore possessed.

These lines are written, not because Greensboro Female College needs defense or advertisement. I have written on amore. Her record and place in the history of our beloved state furnish more eloquent tributes than my weak vocabulary can command. Prof. Fred Peacock is an unassuming, pious, firm man. He is free from any blatant self-conceit. He does not advertise his scholarship or efforts to establish high ideals in education by thrusting himself on the world's notice. He remains at his work and quietly, silently, yet deeply lays foundations and eternal principles, which will flower and bear rich fruit long after the ephemeral display of more shallow men are forgotten and buried beneath the dust of passing years. I close by saying all honor to the few loyal men who go down in their purses and support this college while they say nothing about it to the world and only the friends who are intimate with its workings know of their beneficence.

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.
JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistake.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes: "I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA, DETROIT, MICH.

Twenty years ago millions of bottles were given away, and your druggist will tell you to success was marvellous. It is really the only throat and lung trouble generally endorsed by physicians. Only 75-cent bottle will cure or prove its value. Sold by dealers in all civilized countries.

A CLOSE STUDENT frequently has headache and shooting pains through the eyes, that right glasses will relieve. If your children have the slightest trouble with their eyes, the best not to neglect them, as constant strain will affect them for life. The Best Medicine For Rheumatism.
"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Hermalie, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Police Court Trial and Judgment.
Judge Andy E. Calhoun, of the police court of Atlanta, Ga., recently passed a sentence of much importance to dyspeptics. Here it is: "I had a great sufferer from nervous acid headache and have found no remedy so effective as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If taken when the headache first begins it invariably cures. A. E. Calhoun." Price 50 cents per bottle. At all druggists, or sent for price, express paid, by Tyler Dyspeptic Remedy Co., 41 Mitchell St., Atlanta, Ga. At retail by Howard Gardner.

For the Babies.
There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving the disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A Mother's Duty
It is so to it that her children begin early in life to shampoo their heads regularly once a week. In each instance, should the hair become soiled, the shampoo should be applied to the scalp to aid nature in creating the best possible growth of uniformly colored, lustrous, healthy hair—the most important feature in the make-up of beautiful women and handsome men. For more than fifteen years, the

has stood at the apex of all shampoo washes, while the "Hair Grower" has been equally successful in its efforts to return the injured scalp and almost lifeless hair to their original healthfulness. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

The old saying that "a man, who is naked can't give away his shirt," is only another way of saying that you can't give what you haven't got. The man can't give "free medical advice," or any other kind of medical advice who hasn't got a medical education and a certificate to the fact, in the form of a diploma. And in this particular a woman has no more privilege than a man. She can't give medical advice without medical education and medical knowledge.

The offer of free medical advice made by Dr. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., has been imitated by so many, who without any medical qualifications claim to give "medical advice" that a word of caution is necessary.

Don't write for medical advice to any one, man or woman, who is not a physician. If they are physicians they will take the title of physicians or doctors so that you may recognize them. If they don't claim that title it is because they dare not, for fear of the law.

Do not forget that there is just as much difference in doctors as there is in patients. Every little town has its artist who draws and paints. But these "artists" generally paint copies of the works of great artists like Millet. There was only one Millet.

There is only one Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, such as Dr. Pierce presides over. Thousands of women come or write to Dr. Pierce who have found no help at the hands of doctors of lesser skill and narrower experience. Any sick or ailing woman, suffering from the distressing forms of disease peculiar to women, is invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. Such consultations are absolutely private. Each letter is treated as a sacred confidence, and each answer is sent in a plain envelope, bearing no printing upon it.

In this way offensive questions and repulsive examinations may be avoided. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Polly Pinklights—"Have you seen the new leading lady? She's a fright. I wonder how she ever managed to get engaged?" Fahny Footlights—"She got divorced first."

Governor Taylor Dismounted.

Raleigh Post. Mr. Taylor, for some time called Governor Taylor, of Kentucky, has come down from his high horse, dismounted his military, and consented to leave his case with the courts of his state - just what he should have done at the start. Murder would have been averted and his state saved. The disgrace which his conduct brought upon it, let others be ever so reprehensible. A peaceful end of the disturbances is now in sight - and Kentucky assured to the democracy for a generation.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1899, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expect something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state - B. S. Edwards, publisher of the Review, Wya., Ill. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

No Cure - No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Groves' Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Miss Amanda A. Seymour, the tenth victim of the Ford River switch wreck, died at Escanaba, Mich., yesterday.

Primitive Pipes.

The earliest Indian pipes were simply tubes, in one end of which the tobacco or dried leaves were put. It has been found that the pipes used by the ancient Romans were made on the same plan, the bowl being an invention reserved for a comparatively recent day. It is worthy mentioning incidentally that the cigarette is really an invention of the Indians. They made cigarettes just like those now in use, with wrappers of the thinnest corn husks.

There is a popular notion, by the way, that paper used for modern cigarettes is destructive to health and apt to be saturated with drugs. Facts do not warrant this idea. Inasmuch as the best cigarette paper is quite harmless, being made out of new linen rags, from the refuse left over in the manufacture of shirts and other linen garments.

There is no such thing as rice paper. What is known as such is the pith of a plant cut in thin slices used by the Chinese for painting pictures - Science Siftings.

Ireland Called Many Names.

Few countries have suffered so many changes of name as Ireland. In the time of Ptolemy the island was known as Scotia. Diogenes Siculus calls the island Eris or Irida. In the "De Mundi" credited by some scholars to Aristotle, it is called Irenne. In the "Argonautica of Orpheus" it appears as Iridus; Strabo calls it Iren. Caesar Tacitus and Pliny mention it as Eibheria. Moia called it Juvenera. The native name in Celtic is Eri. Eri or Eris Plutarch mentions it under the name of Ogygia. The name Ireland is no doubt derived from the native Eri or Eris, but the cause of the general use is a question concerning which scholars are much at variance.

Sacrificed to Blood Poison.

Those who have never had Blood Poison can not know what a desperate condition it can produce. This terrible disease which the doctors are totally unable to cure, is communicated from one generation to another, inflicting its taint upon countless innocent ones.

There is a nurse who infected with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood. The little one was born with the disease, and his life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and no language can express my feelings of despair during those long years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians succeeded in treating me, but all to no purpose. The mercury and potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flames which were devouring me. I was getting too badly infected to hope for recovery. I was almost dead when I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Blood Poison. It was the only one which can reach deep-seated, violent cases. It never fails to cure perfectly and permanently the most desperate cases which are beyond the reach of other remedies.

To Our Friends and Customers.
We regret to announce to our friends and customers that on the morning of Feb. 14th, 1900, our stock of goods and our building was almost entirely destroyed by fire and water, and our building badly damaged, which will undoubtedly cause a suspension of our business for a short time.

We feel grateful to all our friends and customers for their very liberal patronage in the past, and hope by fair dealing and a strict attention to business to merit a continuance of same.

We would thank all parties indebted to us to call and settle same, as we are anxious to balance our books. Also request all parties having accounts against us to present same. Our office is at present No. 106 South Davis street, two (2) doors north of C. P. Vanstory's Livery stable, in the McAdoo House building.

Very Respectfully,

AYCOCK ON THE AMENDMENT

OPENED UP CAMPAIGN AT CHARLOTTE YESTERDAY.

Wants His Children to be Free to Vote Whatever Ticket They Choose.

Special to Raleigh Post.

Charlotte, N. C., February 19.—One of the greatest, most eloquent and logical speeches ever delivered in Mecklenburg, Democrats heard tonight when Hon. C. B. Aycock addressed the people on the amendment and campaign issues. The speech was pronounced by his hearers as one of the best ever spoken here.

The speaker was introduced by Chairman McCall as the man whom the Republicans dread more than any man in North Carolina since the death of Vance.

The first point that Aycock made was that the splendid work of the campaign of 1898 would be lost unless we complete it by carrying the constitutional amendment. The people of North Carolina were conservative and would not change the constitution except as a last resort. He reviewed in a masterly manner the history of the State since the war, and said when the Republican party came into power in 1865, they wrought more ruin in two years than was wrought during the whole four years of the war. Lawlessness reigned and death walked everywhere, but only in the passion of the war for the private information of the members of the Volkraad. In 1894 the Boers gave their first order for a quantity of heavy guns and then they expended 100,000 pounds sterling with Krupp of Germany, and 100,000 pounds sterling with an Austrian firm for small arms. The Krupp guns were delivered in 1895 and included two of what was then the largest pattern of a gun in the world. These guns are 48 feet in length, weigh 120 tons, throw a shell weighing 2,300 pounds and require 94 pounds of powder for each discharge. One of these enormous weapons has been dragged to the heights overlooking Ladysmith, the labor necessary to accomplish this feat having been prodigious. The guns were obtained from the Government of Pretoria, where it awaits the approach of the British in their coming attack on the capital. Both are amply provided with ammunition, which in addition to the great steel and iron shells consists of shrapnel, holding 3,000 balls weighing three and one-half ounces each. Its bore is 16.38 inches and all these attributes have enabled the guns to make Ladysmith a most uncomfortable spot during the past several weeks.

"In 1895 another 100,000 pounds sterling was expended with Krupp and a number of field guns of long range were obtained as were also several mountain and bush guns, these being especially adapted to the more hilly country and the hot climate of the Transvaal."

"But it was in 1896 that the Boers contracted for the guns that have thus far in the war done them the most effective service. It was at this time that they made their first purchase of six cannon manufactured at Creusot, and so satisfied were the Boers officers with them that 18 have been added to the Transvaal armament since that date. One of the many effective features of this gun is the clever arrangement of springs and brakes that lessens the recoil materially and brings the gun back to its former position within two seconds after its being discharged. This gives greater velocity to the projectile and increases the range."

"The velocity is a trifle under five miles, this remarkable result being obtained from a charge of less than two pounds of powder and from a gun weighing only 3,400 pounds. Eight shots may be fired each minute without heating the metal and every gun goes into action provided with 144 rounds of ammunition. There is a sufficient quantity of ammunition for these particular guns to keep them in active service for the next two years."

"During 1897-'98 and a portion of 1899, the Boers continued to strengthen their artillery arm and also to fortify many of the hills along the frontier. In this period they bought 48 rapid fire Schneider-Cane 144 pounders that throw a shell containing 234 bullets. Five batteries of eight rapid fire Maxim guns, are being used against Mafeking and Ladysmith. The Boers also provided themselves with four batteries of 12-pound quick firing Vickers-Maxim guns with a range extending up to 5,000 yards. They have also four guns with a range of 12,000 yards. Two of these are said to be mounted on the hills at either side of the narrow pass that leads from Natal into the Transvaal, another is overlooking Ladysmith and the fourth protects Pretoria."

"In all the Boers have between 220 and 130 heavy guns and field pieces, every individual gun being of the latest design and with the latest improvements and the entire number superior in nearly every way to those possessed by the British."

WHY THE QUEEN SMILES

If Conje Is Not Taken, Fierce Battle Now Raging

SURROUNDED BY 25,000 BRITISH

Is Already Taken or Hopelessly Surrounded—French in Rear with 8,000 Horse and Flying Artillery.

London, Feb. 20.—The news which pleases the queen so much is supposed to be that Conje, with the main part of his army, comprising 7,000 troops and a thousand wagons is hopelessly surrounded on the open plain, and must surrender or be hopelessly annihilated. French has probably gotten in his rear with 8,000 horsemen and flying artillery, cutting off retreat to Bloemfontein. Kitchener with Tuckers and Kelly-Kenny's brigades has caught up with his flank. British all told number 25,000. If Conje has not surrendered a fierce battle is now raging.

THE TRANSVAAL GUNS.

The Way the Government Has Been Getting Ready.

London despatch, Saturday.

The correspondent of a new agency, writing from Durban, speaks with apparent knowledge of the Boer armament and the way it was obtained as follows:

"The expenditure of the Transvaal government for artillery during the past four years is shown with startling distinctness in a document that has been brought out on the occasion of the opening of the war for the private information of the members of the Volkraad. In 1894 the Boers gave their first order for a quantity of heavy guns and then they expended 100,000 pounds sterling with Krupp of Germany, and 100,000 pounds sterling with an Austrian firm for small arms. EVANGELIST J. W. LEE'S FALL

LOOKS DARKER FOR HIM NOW THAN BEFORE HIS TRIAL.

Has Practically Deserted His Family, Who Reside in Greensboro—The "Woman in the Case" Is It Yet.

It will be remembered that Evangelist J. W. Lee was tried before the conference of West Market Street church, this city, several months ago, on a charge of immorality, and acquitted. There has been some doubt in the minds of a few, as to the absolute innocence of Mr. Lee, though there has been no criticism of the action of the conference because it was believed, and is yet believed, that the members of that conference acted in the best of faith with the lights before them.

But judging from the reports which now come from Washington, there is reason to believe that the conference before which he was tried was not able to get at the real facts in the case. Reports are now afloat which will perhaps reopen the case. On the 10th inst. the Asheville Gazette's Washington correspondent writes what is claimed to be a statement of facts in regard to Mr. Lee and his conduct in Washington.

A letter from Mr. Lee to Rev. Dr. Rowe, bearing the same date, Feb. 16, asks for a withdrawal from the church and from the ministry. The letter and also the article in the Gazette were read at an informal meeting of the church officials last night. The meeting was not called to take official action and it is not yet decided what course will be pursued. The interests of the church will not be allowed to suffer while in the hands of Dr. Wood and Dr. Rowe.

This matter is especially regretted on account of Mr. Lee's family, who live here, and whom it appears, he has almost abandoned. It is claimed that he rarely ever writes to them, and that they are dependent on others for support. A sum of money, it is further claimed, was raised by Mr. Lee by friends here after his trial, in order that he might leave something for the support of his family and to enable him to secure employment, and that he carried nearly the whole of it away with him.

All the while he has had friends here who have stood by him and believed in his innocence. These things, to say the least, have greatly weakened, if not shattered, their faith in him. The Gazette correspondent says: "The Rev. J. W. Lee, the Methodist evangelist, has a second time, according to most reliable information, come to grief. Lee is the man who a few months ago, conducted a series of revival services in a tent in the rear of the Central Methodist church in Asheville, and who a month or so later was tried in Greensboro before a committee or board of his church on a charge of being guilty of conduct unbecoming a minister of the gospel. He was practically acquitted, there being some technical reservation about his having failed at all times to 'tell the truth and nothing but the truth.'"

The correspondent continuing says "that he has for some time been living with 'the woman in the case' in a room over a clothing store on Pennsylvania avenue. Lee evidently came here with the intention of painting the town a deep vermilion, for after establishing the harem referred to he set about raising money so he could live like one of the boys. It is said that he has mastered all the intricacies of the art of begging, and has collected in this manner even as much as seventy-five dollars a week. He has had smooth sailing until yesterday, when this ugly story leaked out. Now it is all up with him. All his church and political friends have thrown him overboard, and an effort is being made to have the young woman concerned sent back south. Little is known of the woman except that she is from the south, and in all probability from North Carolina, and that she is good looking. It is the general belief that she is not a bad woman, or at least was not until she fell under the influence of her present evil genius, and an effort is being made to have her reputation as far as possible restored. When Lee rented the room he at first, it is said, gave out that the woman was his wife. Later, and when a friend made inquiries, he stated that she was his 'dear ward.'"

"It is said that after Lee rented the room on the avenue, in order to keep secret his whereabouts he would tell people just to send his mail to the general delivery; that he was without a home, and was staying around among the brethren and sisters."

"To secure absolute confirmation of the facts stated your correspondent called at the place where Lee and the woman had been occupying the one room which he rented from a German family on Pennsylvania avenue. They confirmed the entire story and more. A number of ministers, it is reported, have been advised of the facts in the case and will communicate with members of the denomination in North Carolina."

"So, there seems to be no doubt of the fact that Rev. Mr. Lee, in the language of that scripture which he is wont to decerate, is a 'whited sepulcher, full of dead men's bones.'"

Queen Smiles Knowingly at the African News

RUMORED THAT CRONJE ENGAGED

War Office Will Give out Nothing—Presumably Waiting for News of the Battle.

London, Feb. 20.—Whatever news the war office receives today it refuses to reveal. There is a confidential report that Kitchener has brought Cronje to bay and is now engaging him, and the inference is that the war office is merely awaiting despatches announcing the result of the battle. This story, however plausible, may be premature. The hope, however, continues to prevail that Cronje is cut off from Bloemfontein, especially in view of the despatches saying that the Free Staters were in favor of surrendering when they saw the extra British force.

The war office has issued a dispatch from Roberts saying that the main importance of which is that it is dated Monday, at Paardeberg, which is 30 miles east of Jacobsdal. He announces the railroad open to Kimberley and says Methuen will proceed there forthwith, and their evacuation is considered certain.

Durban, Feb. 20.—Buller's guns opened fire on Boer trenches at Colenso today, and their evacuation is considered certain.

TRAINING FROM A TOWN TO KIMBERLEY. Capetown, Feb. 20.—The first train for Kimberley since the Boer investment left here last night.

THE QUEEN SMILES.

London, Feb. 20.—Queen Victoria today announced to the Lincolns that she had received good news from South Africa this morning. Her Majesty was plainly in high spirits, and smiled frequently, presumably at the news from the war, but as to the nature of this news, nothing is allowed to transpire.

HOW CHARLOTTE GOES.

Cooperation is the Keynote to Progress.

Charlotte Observer.

A reporter of this paper had an interview yesterday with Geo. B. Hise, the secretary of the chamber of commerce, during which Mr. Hise said: "First of all, allow me to tender thanks to the machinery of the kind report it has promised in this work of forging out, city's future, progressive career, through the medium of the Charlotte chamber of commerce."

"It is not a question of what has been or what the situation is now, but what we can make in the future. The best equipped engine ever built, coupled to the latest devised steam power, with the best of engineers in the engine room, will not develop any power, unless the proper appliances for generating steam and the necessary help to apply those appliances are at hand ready to co-operate with the employees in the engine room. Should there be any lack of interest in the force which generates the power to operate the engine, down goes the steam pressure, the machinery coming to a standstill and the engineers are as useless as the machinery they were selected to operate."

"Co-operation—that's the key note. Anything is possible with co-operation. Without it, you cannot pick up a pin. But now that assurances of co-operation on the part of the press and the citizens of our city have been secured, there is every reason to believe time and time alone is necessary to make the energetic, commercial efforts of Charlotte's business men felt in this community and abroad as they have never been felt before."

"The rapid increase of industrial wealth of this section now brought about by the wonderful development of the manufacture of cotton fabrics, will sooner or later be increased by diversified industrial plants, created to supply the various necessities, increasing month by month, give more and more employment to those seeking such labor, thus enlarging the vast army of our citizens who must be fed and clothed through commercial channels which in a large part, should have their distributing depots in our city."

"Alive to the advantages which surround our borders, we should have a constantly increasing wholesale and retail trade. Of course business will gradually increase without much effort, but with the proper efforts exerted through our chamber of commerce, this increase can be multiplied many fold. Now that we have the co-operation of the press and the people, it can be clearly observed, the improvements in many business matters need only to be courted to be secured. Let us seek the co-operation of the railroads, which more or less centre here, to the end that a rate of freight to and from Charlotte may always be in keeping with our mutual interests—not that it is suggested to make any semblance of a fight against our railroads, but seek their co-operation."

"After doctors failed to cure me of pneumonia I used One Minute Cough Cure and three bottles of it cured me. It is also the best remedy on earth for whooping cough. It cured my grandchildren of the worst cases," writes Jno. Berry, Logan, Pa. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Cures coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles. It prevents consumption. Children always like it. Mothers endorse it. Howard Gardner.

NEWS HIGHLY SATISFACTORY

WAR OFFICE IN GOOD HUMOR, BUT TACTICALLY.

Rumored that Cronje is hopelessly surrounded—Waiting for Confirmation.

London, Feb. 20, 3:45 a. m.—A member of the cabinet told H. W. Lucy tonight that the war office had received a telegram announcing that General Cronje was hopelessly surrounded. Mr. Wyndham was heard by anxious members of the house would only reply that the government's news was extremely satisfactory. The sole explanation of the government withholding the good news is that confirmation and the necessary details are awaited.

The Chiefly correspondent of The Daily News, telegraphing yesterday, says: "We now occupy all the hills to the right of Colenso, on this side, of the Tugela, including Hlangwane, which the Boers evacuated last night (Sunday). This capture of Hlangwane hill is of great strategic importance as it commands the flank of the Boer defenses at Colenso. A successful advance and the recapture of the railway may be expected."

The Daily Mail has the following dispatch, dated Monday, from Pietermaritzburg: "It is reported that Sir Redvers Buller had captured Hlangwane hill. Large numbers of Free Staters have left to meet Lord Roberts's force. It is believed that a number of Boer big guns have been taken back across the borders."

NORTH CAROLINA AND MASSACHUSETTS.

The Washington Post is now much opposed to the proposed constitutional amendment in North Carolina, basing its opposition upon a belief that the illiterate colored man is as well, or better, fitted to vote as the illiterate white man, and it would, presumably, be in favor of the amendment were it aimed at the white and black alike. We notice an extract from the Post of February 26, 1899, in which it is said that the suffrage laws of South Carolina and Mississippi are no more violations of the federal constitution than are those of Massachusetts. This is a timely quotation from the Post, and shows that, however badly it has slipped up its present view of the subject, its heart is right. The Post is so often right, and uniformly disposed to treat the south fairly, that we can take its present attitude only as the expression of sincere opinion, and hence are distressed that it has seen fit to lend its influence against a measure so vital to the peace and welfare of our state.

Let's take the Post's comparison of Mississippi and Massachusetts, substituting for Mississippi, North Carolina, the proposed amendment of which is copied from the Mississippi law. We will perhaps not find the two causes extremely unlike. There are two constant forces in this world, each similar to itself wherever found—nature and humanity; one perfect, the other imperfect. Fundamentally human nature is the same the world over, differences are more apparent than real.

Some time in the past, Massachusetts found herself, either actually or prospectively, in the condition which North Carolina is trying to overcome today. She saw that the stability and progress of her civilization depended upon the character and intelligence of her voting population. If there was a class of people which did not meet the mark she was free to go ahead and eliminate them from the voting population, and there was no question of her right to do so under the constitution of the United States. But to show the perversity of human nature, though free to protect herself in this matter, Massachusetts led the crusade which resulted in making it impossible for the southern states to protect themselves in like manner. In other words, Massachusetts is free to do pretty much as it pleases with its inferior voting population, because that population happens to be white skinned and the United States constitution grants the privilege, but when we want the same common rights of self defense and preservation, Massachusetts and the other states above the line withhold that right by clapping on to the original instrument the "race, color and previous condition" amendment. So Massachusetts has a right to refuse her ignorant and vicious population the privilege of voting, because that population happens to be white, while North Carolina, desiring to curtail likewise the power of ignorance and venality, is denied the right, because that ignorance and stupidity is "fashioned in ebony," and is made sacred by an amendment to the constitution of the United States which was conceived in prejudice, perfected in hatred, and is now protected by the selfish and heartless support of a great political party.

This will not always be. Southern men will find a way out of us where. Their feeling and determination was well expressed by Ben Tillman, who, when asked what South Carolina would do when the negroes became educated and thus able to vote, replied, "O, then we'll find something else."

The step taken by the last legislature in appropriating $100,000 to the public schools was a magnificent beginning, and there should be no falling back. More money must be spent upon the schools before any degree of proficiency can be reached. The salary of teachers in North Carolina cannot command first class talent, and until such talent is employed, the work at best must be lamely done. From four to six months school in each county, the length of term depending upon the locality, with competent teachers, adequate supplies and comfortable houses is what is needed. The need right now is not so much larger schools as it is better schools.

Mrs. Gabbie—"How was Mrs. Hytson's gown?" Mr. Gabbie—"I can't remember, but Mr. Hytson was coaxed, voted and trousered in black broadcloth."

OSBORNE FOR COMMISSIONER

SENATOR PRITCHARD BACKING HIM FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

May Be Appointed—Peck's Bad Boy's Pa in Washington After the Democratic Convention

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Members of the democratic national committee are beginning to arrive in Washington. The meeting of the committee will be held on Washington's birthday at the Hotel Raleigh, and the indications are that the full membership will be present, either in person or by proxy. With the incoming of the national committee-men the delegations are arriving. Among the first to put in their appearance were the delegation from Milwaukee. The Milwaukeeans are in earnest and enthusiastic, and firmly believe that their city is going to have the honor of entertaining the democratic hosts next summer. They are by long odds the most noisy of the delegations now in Washington, and are the most in evidence. If they lack anything in the nature of the votes at the meeting of the national committee next Thursday, it will be more than compensated for by shouting they are doing. The delegation from Milwaukee is headed by ex-governor Peck, the author of Peck's Bad Boy, and in their ranks are some of the most prominent democrats of the state of Wisconsin. Other cities which will be heard before the national committee are New York city, Indianapolis, Chicago, and Kansas city.

The first business which will be done Thursday by the national committee will probably be the selection of the date upon which the convention shall meet. This is likely to be done immediately after the arguments in favor of the various cities are heard. There is much demand for an early convention, although Senator Jones, the chairman in favor of holding the convention at Philadelphia. It is usually the policy of the party in control of the government to select the trickiest and announce their platform first, and Senator Jones is in favor of following this course. This rule, however, is not binding, and there was a departure from it as late as the last presidential campaign, the St. Louis republican convention having been held prior to that of the democratic convention at Chicago, although the Democrats were then in control of the government. So far as can be learned most of the southern democrats in congress, including several of the North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia delegations, side with Senator Jones in favoring a late, rather than an early convention. It is claimed that the majority of the national committee favor holding the convention the last week in May, but there is no way of ascertaining this prior to the meeting of the committee.

There are several names mentioned in connection with the appointment on the Philippines commission to be made from the southern section of the country. Among those mentioned are Clark Howell, the well known Atlanta editor, but it is not thought that he would accept the appointment. Frank Osborne, of Charlotte, North Carolina, is prominently mentioned in connection with the appointment. Mr. Osborne is now in Washington, and he is backed for the appointment by Senator Pritchard.

The bill appropriating $10,000 for the enclosing and beautifying of the grounds and repair of the monument on Moore's Creek Battlefield has been reported to the house from the committee on library with a favorable recommendation, and the North Carolina delegation will urge its passage through the house of representatives.

The senate of South Carolina voted "no" to the house bill to appropriate $100,000 to public schools, and the House acquiesced in the negative. We had hoped that the Fairmount legislature would follow the good example of the North Carolina General Assembly. —Raleigh News & Observer.

A Confusion at Colombo. Our confederate's appearance placed him at once above the suspicion of concealing anything up his sleeve, for he had none. His dress was a scant white dumpy which began at the shoulders and ended at the knees, leaving both arms and legs uncovered. Placing himself on the deck directly in front of us, with his boy assistants a little way off on either side, he began operations.

First he stood on the deck a small cotton pocket handkerchief. Thereon, in the form of a small hillock, he put two handfuls of loose friable earth, in which he planted the mango seed. This accomplished, he dispatched a boy with a flat tin for water. In the meantime taking a hooded snake from a shallow basket and waving it—the while it hissed angrily and enlarged its neck—over the little mound of soil as he did so clapping on a strange pipe. The water fetched, he sprinkled a few drops on the earth, then covered the heap with a small square of fringed turban cloth.

After much repeating his incantations he lifted the pot covering and revealed a tiny green shoot, not unlike the first appearance of a bean above the ground—Buckwheat.

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way to Head the Warning, Johnston's Sarsaparilla. Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors, trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

The Best Medicine For Rheumatism. "I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes Mr. W. H. Stapleton, Herman, Pa. Police Court Trial and Judgment. Judge Andy E. Calhoun, of the police court of Atlanta, Ga., recently passed a sentence of much importance to dyspeptics. Here it is: "I am a kind sufferer from nervous indigestion and have found no remedy so effective as Tysen's Dyspepsia Remedy. If taken when the headache first begins it invariably cures. A. E. Calhoun. Price 50 cents per bottle. At all druggists, or sent for price, express paid, by Tysen Dyspepsia Remedy Co., 24 Mitchell St., Atlanta, Ga. At retail by Howard Gardner.

For the Babies. There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Putting food into a diseased stomach is like putting money into a pocket with holes. The money is lost. All its value goes for nothing. When the stomach is diseased, with the allied organs of digestion and nutrition, the food which is put into it is largely lost. The nutriment is not extracted from it. The body is weakened and the blood impoverished. The pocket can be mended. The stomach can be cured. That sterling medicine for the stomach and blood, Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, acts with peculiar promptness and power on the organs of digestion and nutrition. It is a positive cure for almost all disorders of these organs, and cures also such diseases of the heart, blood, liver and other organs, as have their cause in a weak or diseased condition of the stomach.

There is no alcohol or other intoxicant contained in Golden Medical Discovery. Substitutions are imitations. Imitation money is worthless. So are imitations of Dr. Pierce's "Discovery." Get the genuine.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glenaville, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "I had been doctoring for about a year and a half, being unable to work most of the time. The doctor said I had heart disease and indigestion. My appetite was usually poor. I was weak and nervous. I was short of breath. Finally, I decided to try your Golden Medical Discovery, and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

Wick'dest Woman in England. She is due here on the 7th inst. from England, and the immigration officials are preparing to arrest her before she can set foot ashore.

She has been arrested fifty times and has served most of her life in prison. Up and down the criminal scale she has ranged, falling in nothing but murder. She has tried that on three occasions, but has never succeeded. The nearest she has come to accomplishing her aim has been three convictions for felonious assault.

At one time Mme. Hannawater kept the most successful and most notorious "face" on the continent. She was the patroness of every vulgar bar of note, but she was addicted to both malicious mischief and gossip. It was these two things that made her capture inevitable.

Nearly every capital on the continent knows her. In nearly every one of these she has been convicted. She has been in jail for receiving stolen goods, for burglary, grand and petit larceny, for disorderly conduct, for disturbing the peace, for assault with intent to kill, for assault and battery, for malicious mischief, slander, etc. She is coming here under the name of Wilhelmina Stells.

Dewey and Wals Take a Turn. Jacksonville News. A J. Pearson, manager of the Florida Ostich farm, returned yesterday from Palm Beach and reports a desperate fight which occurred there a few days ago, between the birds Admiral Dewey and the Prince of Wales, in which Dewey was badly whipped, he now being under treatment for his injuries.

Mr. Pearson says it was a terrible fight, the powerful birds kicking and biting each other in a frightful manner. $5-plums were pulled out and trampled in the dirt and the birds were soon covered with blood. Dewey was fast getting the worst of the fight and finally he turned to run. As he did, the Prince of Wales knocked him down and he lay helpless on the ground. It was not until this time that the keeper dared go in the pen to separate them, and by hard efforts the Prince of Wales was driven from his fallen foe. Both birds are badly hurt.

Wine of Cardui. THE LINK THAT BINDS. I was subject to miscarriage for three years, and suffered constantly with backache. I wrote to you for advice, and after using three bottles of Wine of Cardui, according to your directions, I am strong and well, and the mother of a fine girl baby. Mrs. E. N. JOWESS.

There is no use talking—a baby in the house is the link that binds husband and wife together. Nothing is sadder than fruitless wedlock. The prattling and cooing of the little ones offset a thousand times the occasional worries and trials of life. When a wife is barren, there is a derangement somewhere in the genital organs, caused by one or more of those common disorders known as "female troubles." Wine of Cardui is the remedy. It puts the organs of generation in a strong and healthy condition, fitting the wife for the sacred duty of reproducing her kind. During the period of gestation the entire system of the expectant mother is built up to withstand the ordeal of labor, and when the little one makes its advent it is lusty and strong, well-fitted to grow to maturity in perfect health. The mother, too, passes through the trial with little pain and no dread. Wine of Cardui is truly a wonderful medicine for women.

SAM INGRAM MARRIED.

The Bride is Miss Rena Vickers, of Reidsville.

The eastbound train, leaving Greensboro at 8:10 this morning, had on board Miss Rena Vickers, of Reidsville, and J. Sam Ingram, of this city, formerly of the Telegram office. Miss Vickers was accompanied by her aunt Mrs. W. R. Vickers, of Reidsville. Arriving at Raleigh the party registered at the Yarbrough House, where the services of Rev. John E. White were secured and Mr. Ingram and Miss Vickers were married at twelve o'clock. They will return to Greensboro tonight and reside here in the future. It is rather a surprise to many of their friends as it has been kept quiet, but nevertheless all of them wish well to the newly married couple a long and happy life. The Telegram's best wishes are extended to them.

Devotion Met By Appreciation.

There are few cities of the same size that can boast a larger number of handsome churches and more men of talent in the ministry than Greensboro. There is no more certain index of thrift, industry and growth in a town than the healthy and prosperous condition of its churches, for good churchmen cannot be "stifled in business." As an evidence of the talent Greensboro has in the occupants of her pulpits, one of our preachers was recently offered among other inducements a salary of $5000 by a large city church, which he promptly declined. Whereupon, without his knowledge, the officers of his church proceeded to make up among themselves a substantial purse to be added to his present salary, which will make it $3000.00 per year. Preaching is the poorest paid profession, and it is a good omen for a church when it is found willing and able to be generous to its pastor.

Still a few pairs left of the men's four dollar high cut hunting shoes to be closed out for $2.75 at Thacker & Brockmann's.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Several thousand dollars worth of new furniture is now being received for equipping the Benbow, which is nearing completion.

Dr. Rleson drove out east of town this morning with about twenty-five pounds of sulphur, saying he was going to fumigate a place where there had been a nest of smallpox.

The ball from the most dangerous of Ross Hummel's wounds was yesterday removed by Dr. Turner by a neat surgical operation. The patient is doing well and will perhaps recover.

"According to the ground-hog," we are to have 40 days of winter, dating from 2d inst. Kindly remember that overcoat sale advertised by Rankin, Chisholm, Stroud & Rees. Some $25 coats in this lot.

Special attention is called to the statement of the Southern Loan & Trust Co. in this issue. This company began general banking business Jan. 1st, 1900 and is building up an excellent business. The deposits at close of business yesterday were over $150,000.

Ladies clean your kid gloves with LaBelle glove cleaner. It is not a liquid, leaves no odor and can be used while the glove is on the hand. For sale only by Grimes & Fordham, druggists. 3m.

Hope It Is True.

If the decision in the Benbow case has the effect of putting the property involved on the market, the following will probably be effected: The burnt corner next to the Benbow house, down to Bendheim's store on S. Elm, also the opposite corner on Sycamore next to the K&T building down to Wharton's grocery, the vacant lot next to the Odell hardware Co., property on Lee Street and the Dairy east of town, also the Crown Mills building end of east Washington Street. It is certainly to be hoped that the property on south Elm will be for sale, so that desirable buildings can be erected as soon as possible. Both Herring Row and the burnt corner have been eyesores for a long, long time.

NEW RAILWAY SHOP.

There Will be Four Buildings—Work has Begun.

Work has been commenced on the new railway repair shops in this city. The cold weather has retarded the work somewhat, but it is expected it will be pushed as rapidly as possible. The new shops are being built near the new turn table, the latter will really be a part of the equipment, being on the "yard," so to speak. There will be four buildings, the main machine shop, store house, oil house, and an office for Capt. C. W. Lee, chief engineer at this place. The Southern has made many marked improvements in Greensboro and it is not done yet.

"GOVERNMENT" CARS.

A Wise Citizen Tells a Visitor About the Dispensary.

There is living in Greensboro a man who likes his dram! Of course there may be others, but certain it is that there is one. He was at the depot early this morning, watching the express package unloaded from the incoming train. A visitor was leisurely walking about the platform, waiting for his train. The citizen and the visitor recognized each other as old acquaintances. After a few words the citizen remarked that he was looking for a jug of liquor. Said he didn't like the dispensary and wouldn't spend a cent of his money for the whiskey sold there, that he ordered all his liquor from elsewhere. And in contemplation of the good stuff he was looking for he smacked his mouth and said he always liked a dram; that he kept the material on hand all the time. He could get up in the morning, take a drink and feel good all day.

As he was speaking the noisy rumbling of a long freight train made it impossible to hear the visitor express his views on the question under discussion. It may be that he did not enthusiastically agree with the citizen, but the subject was dropped, and mention was made of the freight cars that were passing with large red tags and the figures "71" in white on them. The visitor wished to know what those numbers meant.

"All those with the red tags are government cars and contain provisions for the soldiers," was the reply. "You know soldiers must have something to eat," he continued. "The old citizen seemed to be convinced that he knew what he was talking about, and the visitor, ready to receive information, remarked that he had seen some cars in other trains numbered 73, instead of 71, and wanted to know if they were 'government' cars also. The citizen said he supposed they were.

There was much hurry and bustle about the depot, the quickly passing freight made room for a passenger train, the visitor got aboard, the citizen followed the express wagon, and the 'government cars' rolled on their southward journey as if the engineer was afraid the soldiers would have a late breakfast.
